

The EDGE PROGRAMS SUPPORT SUMMER CAMPS

The EDGE, George Mason University's Center for Outdoor Experiential Learning, offers field trip programming that enhances the camp experience for both your campers and staff.

Located at Mason's Science & Technology Campus in Manassas, Virginia, The EDGE Challenge Course features high elements such as a 50' Alpine Tower, a Total Team Challenge and Power Pole as well as 25 low elements. The course is located adjacent to The Piedmont Trail, a 1.2 mile meandering walking/running trail shaded by acres of hardwood forest.

Programs:

- Benefit individuals 10 years of age through adult.
- Span 4 or 6 hours with ½ hour added for lunch.
- Utilize the Challenge Course set in a unique outdoor environment.
- Incorporate portable, indoor programming should inclement weather occur.

OUR EDGE ON WHEELS PROGRAM COMES TO YOUR LOCATION!
Maximize time and eliminate travel expenses. Our staff provide portable programming designed to support your goals.

ADVENTURE CAMPERS will experience climbing our 50' Alpine Tower, riding our Giant Swing, or conquering their way to the top of our Power Pole. Activities take participants away from their everyday setting into unknown outcomes and provide campers a monitored environment where safety comes first.

CAMP STAFF experience a ½ or full day program focused on developing the team who will represent your camp. Or maximize your time away with ½ day of The EDGE program followed by onsite self-directed retreat work.

LEADERSHIP OPPORTUNITIES focus on helping youth learn to present vision, establish goals, motivate those around them, and make key decisions. Participants experience how all team roles and functions must sync together for effective decision making and achievement.

SPORTS CAMP DIRECTORS can add either our traditional teambuilding program OR our Winning EDGE program to their camp schedule. Both programs feature activities focused on team bonding, dealing with adversity, developing leadership/followership, and establishing a shared
